41st Annual Summer Institute for Intercultural Communication

Join us July 12–28 in Portland, Oregon.

SIIC offers a range of workshops for professionals in intercultural and multicultural education, training, business, and consulting. This Institute presents a unique opportunity to explore intercultural communication in both domestic and international arenas, develop greater skills and broader knowledge in the field, gather resources, and network with other professionals in a stimulating and supportive environment. Workshops are offered in 1-day, 3-day, and 5-day formats.

Fellowship Program

Are you seeking a more in-depth and collective learning experience this summer? The SIIC Fellows Program offers an opportunity to explore the field of intercultural communication, to assess career direction, to commit to a personal intercultural practice, and to learn about intercultural team development by working directly with other Fellows, SIIC staff, and faculty. There is a strong emphasis on collaborative learning, and a rare opportunity for diverse individuals with a common interest to explore the role of intercultural communication in their lives.

New Interculturalists Program

Designed for those interested in a glimpse of SIIC behind the scenes, the New Interculturalists Program begins just before Session I, and offers an Institute immersion experience, an introduction to the field of intercultural relations, and an exploration of professional opportunities. Ideal candidates for this program are recent college graduates interested in testing whether intercultural work is right for them, those considering intercultural graduate school, or professionals shifting fields.
