FrameBits is a modern frame connection system combining high quality synthetic joints and metal tubing (copper, brass, aluminium, stainless steel, mild steel).

The tubes connect flush to the joints giving a smooth, elegant finish.

An internal flange can be added to the joints giving support to panels and shelving.

FrameBits also offer magnet joint connections making the system endlessly reusable.

The standard joint colour is black, however they can be coated in any colour of choice, at an additional cost.

FrameBits are developed and produced in the Netherlands by Dutch Innovation Systems.
