

ACTIVITIES PROVISION AWARENESS

Even if you have a dedicated activities co-ordinator in your setting, it is vital that all care workers understand the importance of activities to person-centred care.

By completing this course you will understand:

- How to contribute to activity-based care practice
- The components and stages of an activity
- Planning person-centred activities
- The benefits of engaging in activities
- Adapting environments and activities to enable participation
- The importance of risk assessment and record keeping
