Hikurangi Community Development Co-ordinator

Hello Hikurangi,

I don't know about you all but I am loving that we still have sun around, unlike this time last year when we had cyclone Gabrielle! I have been busily working away on a number of projects, but predominantly supporting our local Playgroup to get the new Hikurangi Toy Library up and running. It is now open and we welcome families to pop in on Mondays between 9-12 to play and register to borrow some of our awesome toys and games. There are a number of funding applications in action at the moment of which we are awaiting outcomes, which hits the pause button on the related projects. I am continuing to focus on the development of a Hikurangi Vision as well as progressing a number of other projects that aim to provide more services or improve current services or assets. If you haven't already made contact with me I recommend you send me a text or email so I can ensure you receive our correspondence in particular with developing the community vision. The more perspectives, opinions, and values we can gather whilst building this the better! Our local community groups are also working towards engaging in this process through our Hikurangi Community Development Group where we will start a campaign soon outlining our local groups, who they are, what they aim to do, and how you can get in touch or join. Keep enjoying the sunshine and feel free to get in touch with me on admin@hikurangi.co.nz or 021616755.

Until next month, Sharlene.

The Northland Regional council has worked alongside locals to bring the Hikurangi Bus Link to Hikurangi on Tuesdays and Thursdays! This means for only $3 each way you can come to Hikurangi for 4 hours and visit some of our local attractions on those lovely summer days.....

We went to visit our daughter and she prepared us a roast lunch. I noticed the chicken thawing in the kitchen sink with a dish drainer inverted over the bird. I asked what it was doing there. 'Mum, you always did it that way, didn't you?' said my daughter turning to her mother. 'Yes,' my wife replied, 'but you haven't got a cat.'

HIKURANGI VOLUNTEER FIRE BRIGADE

Hi Hikurangi

Have you got smoke alarms installed? This is a vital tool in your home safety kit. When you're asleep, you lose your sense of smell, so make sure its in working order. Test it once a month, also give it a vacuum now and again, dust build up can trigger the smoke alarm to sound vacuuming the smoke alarm will prevent false alarms.

If you see us out on the road please pay attention to what's in front of you and follow directions given to you by our members or police, we know the Facebook community page has posts about some of our incidents by members of the community, we have had incidents where people see something on Facebook and then come for a look, this adds more work to us and we cannot concentrate on what we need too. If a Facebook post says there is a detour, please pay attention to this. Help us help our community.

In May we have 4 members doing the Sky Tower Challenge, climbing 51 flights of stairs in full firefighting gear to raise money for Leukaemia & Blood Cancer New Zealand. In the coming months they will be out and about training getting themselves ready for this challenge don't be afraid to say hi if you see them, they will also be out fundraising for this great cause.

We have 3 Caged Trailer loads of firewood being raffled off just $5.00 a ticket – contact us via our Facebook page for tickets

Hikurangi Police (Rado) Greg

Tēnā koutou katoa,

About this same time last year we were battling Cyclone Gabrielle.

I've been away for about 1 month. It was a great break; the weather was fantastic. Now back to reality! I've started my week off with 3 days of court. It appears things may have been pretty good while I was away just a few minor incidents reported back to me. I'd like to thank Detective Pep Reihana who held the fort while I was away. I've been told Police will be advertising a permanent position next month, for Hikurangi, to replace Josh which is very exciting. But for now it's a waiting game until the process is complete, when that is, I don't know?

For those that were able to have time off with their whanau and enjoy the company of hoa/friend/s, good on you all. Creating memories!

Getting back into the grind again with mahi, tamariki and kura and the costs that come with the start of another year can be a struggle for some of our whanau so if anyone is struggling, reach out.

Unfortunately, Covid is on the rise with different variants of the bug out there. I managed to pick it up, second time for me and this time around I found it a bit more kick in the backside than the first time around. Booster shots are still on offer and with the change of season approaching it is good to consider your options. If in doubt call the health line to discuss any concerns. Phone 0800 611 116.

'Heads up', Eventually I'll start doing traffic checkpoints with the help of the Whangarei traffic units, targeting alcohol/drug driving and driver licence breaches. With that in mind if anyone is needing assistance to graduate to the next stage of their driver's licence, i.e from a learner's to restricted or restricted to full and have completed the time waiting in between, stop in and see me and I'll make a referral to one of our support agencies. This is also open to anyone wanting to obtain a Learners licence. All they require is a contact phone number and commitment.

That's all I have for this month so for now Kia tupato, stay safe out there, take care and look after each other and again if its an emergency and happening now call 111. If its happened already and it needs to be reported its 105.

Mauri Ora!

Kupu o te marama: Word of the month:

Manaaki(tia): look after, care for, show respect or kindness to

We will take care of you

HIKURANGI HISTORICAL MUSEUM

The Hikurangi Historical Museum had its beginnings in 1987 when members of Friendship House held a morning tea for former miners of Waro Coal Mines and Kamo Mines. Because of the high level of interest in this aspect of local history it was decided to establish a museum in Hikurangi. At that time the focus was on mining activities, however, over the years the scope grew to include aspects of other industries, sports, domestic life, people and much more about Hikurangi and surrounding communities. As you may be aware, with the implementation of the Aotearoa New Zealand's Histories curriculum, school children are now learning about history local to the area where they live. We feel the Hikurangi Museum can play an important part in this. We began this work in 2023, and look forward to working more closely with our local primary school this year. We like to engage with our community - all ages. And 2024 has started with a bang! Creative Communities funding enabled us to run a series of creative workshops teaching historic arts and craft techniques. These were very well attended by the young right through to the elderly. They learnt about: raranga, sewing, cyanotypes and silhouettes, needle felting, drypoint printmaking, and lei making. Thanks to all that participated; the tutors; Whangārei District Creative Communities scheme for the funding, and our local Fire Brigade for the loan of their gazebos, tables, and chairs. Our next exhibition at the museum will be 'Decorative Arts and Crafts of Hikurangi and surrounding areas'. So, if you have any historic art or craft work that has a connection to Hikurangi (made by a local person, or of local materials/ scenes, or even owned by a local resident) please get in touch with the museum if you are happy to loan it for the duration of the exhibition. Email: hikurangi.museum@gmail.com. We are also busy working towards a development plan for the museum. We believe with new businesses and people moving into the area, that it is timely to plan for the future of the museum, to best preserve our history, stories and artefacts for future generations. To borrow a phrase from the Ministry of Education - "Me mātai whakamuri, kia anga whakamua - To shape Aotearoa New Zealand's future, let's start with the past." So we will be inviting all of you to please help us develop a plan for the museum's future. A question was posed to us recently- what would Hikurangi be like without a museum? Do the community even want the museum to exist? We certainly hope so! But would love to hear what you think and any ideas you may have re: how we can improve, or do things differently. A survey will be available soon on Facebook, emailed out to all members, and upon request. Hard copies will be available at Friendship House and the Museum as well. Please help us by filling our survey out. Visit us at 1 Alfred St, Hikurangi. Our opening hours are: Tuesday and Thursday 10 - 11.30; Saturdays (Summer months) 10 - 2pm. Artworks below are drypoint etchings created at the printmaking workshop held at the museum. Artists L to R are: Jenna, Alex, Skye.

On the first day of my career as a teacher, I made a firm statement about the kind of work I expected from the pupils. I closed my little speech by saying it would take far more than a mere 'apple for the teacher' to receive a passing mark.
Apparently I made a point. On the following morning one of my pupils presented me with a melon.

Returning from work one evening, my husband noticed our neighbour's son sitting on the kerb outside his house. With some concern he asked the boy what he was doing there so late. 'I've run away from home,' came the reply. 'You haven't got very far have you?' said my husband. The little boy looked at him and said, 'I'm not allowed to cross the road.'
