HIKURANGI HISTORICAL MUSEUM

"Within the child lies the fate of the future" said Dr Maria Montessori, and we agree! Two of our museum volunteers have spent the last Term working with Hikurangi School on a creative project that explored the history of our village and the personal stories of ngā tamariki. During this time, classes visited the museum and worked from historic photographs in our collection. Some of them went on to present their research about a selection of special places in Hikurangi that they identify with, on a radio show hosted by Whangārei Libraries - broadcast on Beagle Radio.

If you wish to listen to this, go to: <https://www.beagleradio.co.nz/podcasts/> then scroll through the list of podcasts until you find the episode of 'The Shelf' dated the 31st of July. This podcast is also available on You tube through the Whangārei Libraries site (The Shelf: a Whangārei District Libraries radio show. Episode 24). The project was an enriching experience and gives us faith in our future. Such lovely young people. We thank Hikurangi School, the students, their teachers and whānau for supporting this kaupapa, as well as Hiku Art and Vinyl for hosting the exhibition; Hikurangi Miners Rest and Hikurangi Indian Takeaways for supplying recycled Tetra Paks for the students' printmaking. The image you can see here is of the first official school building, when it was located on View Rd. It is a cyanotype - one of the earliest historic photographic techniques. This was made by students from Room 6 at Hikurangi School - ka rawe!

HIKURANGI VOLUNTEER FIRE BRIGADE

Hi Hikurangi

Our Operational Support are looking for people to join our crew. If you would like to help in your community and make a difference. JOIN US NOW! We are not there to put out fires or cut people out of cars. We are there to protect the First Responders allowing them to work in a safe environment. We also supply lighting at house fires or car accidents. We can also direct traffic at Accident sites. Are you 18 or older to volunteer with us. If you're 16 or 17 you will need permission from a caregiver. Do you live or work in Hikurangi? Are you able to respond to incidents quickly and participate in regular brigade training. We train on Mondays at 6.30pm. We are located on Alfred St. Feel free to message us via Facebook or pop down to the Fire Station Monday Nights and see Michelle or Jerram for a chat.

Have you got an escape plan? This is a vital tool in your home safety kit. Fire is fast. In a fire, you'll probably be scared and disorientated. Toxic smoke might make it hard to breathe and see clearly. That's why it's essential to have an escape plan in place, to practice it regularly, and to know how to get to safety quickly. You should know 2 ways of escape out of each room, and have a safe place to meet.

Be careful on the roads drive to the conditions.

Remember to always put the ashes in a metal bucket and to pour water on the bucket. Ashes can take up to a week to cool down.

Remember the heater metre rule - always keep clothes, furniture, curtains at least one metre from heaters and fireplaces.

Check any gas bottles for leaks before using them.

Check out fireandemergency.nz for tips on staying safe this winter.

Need help or advice you can contact us on Facebook, Hikurangi Volunteer Fire Brigade.

Policeman Rado (Greg)

Tēnā koutou katoa,

Ko te tumanako kei te ora koe. (I hope you are doing well). As winter is in its last month. Roll on Koanga/Spring. Kei te whitu te rā/The sun is shining. Kei te heke te ua/Its raining. Kei te pupuhi te hau/It's windy/the wind is blowing. Kei te makariri te hau/It's cold.

The Olympics are in full swing, some great events watched! Go the Kiwi's.

I'd like to thank the young man who replaced my station letter box after a night of foolishness by him. Good choice in colours, Red and Black, goes with the area. I am always open to try and sort things out, if can be done, by not going through the court system.

I've spoken previously about a second permanent position being advertised for the Hikurangi Police, that posting went up a couple of weeks ago and was due to close on the 5th of August. I should hopefully have an idea of names, if people have applied for the position by the time this bulletin is printed. The process, once they have the names, they will go through all the applications and break them down to who best suits this role and will add some great input into the area. As for a start date,? I don't know but fingers crossed, should know by the next bulletin in Mahuru.

Changing topic, I want to remind everyone on vehicle security, vehicles are still a huge target for crime. They are being stolen for fun, used in all manner of crime, and are creating havoc on the roads not only for Police but for the safety of other road users.

Some advice, sharpen up when we lock up at night. Some common sense but lock your vehicle and remove your valuables. If possible, park on your property under a security light if you have one, if not try and get one, the solar powered ones are great. These are simple things that should be automatic and are proven to work. Again, steering wheel locks are a great deterrent as well.

'P', Meth, I'd say, and a lot already know, is well established in the Hikurangi area. If anyone has any knowledge/information of this drug in Hikurangi, people selling or baking the stuff, feel free to come and see me or call crime stoppers, call 105 and you can leave a message for me to contact you and any time. Any information provided will remain anonymous and on the down low.

Good catch/arrest last week. With the help of people calling, it in, myself along with the team from Te Kamo, we managed to catch the rural mail/postie thief, him, and his side kick. Unfortunately, a lot of the packages were not recovered.

Otherwise, we a tracking not to bad in Hikurangi and our coastal region.

I'd like to put in a plug for anyone that is interested in joining the NZ Police. Our Northland recruiter, Joe 'The Rock' TE AO (Dwayne Johnson impersonator) is the man to speak to. He knows all you need to know about joining the Blue brothers and sisters. He can be contacted on Joseph.Teao@police.govt.nz or stop in and see and I can chat about it and or forward details on to him. Police or Army/Navy.

Also, for any male that is struggling out there or just needing someone to korero with, every Wednesday starting from 6.30pm, one of our local Tane, Karl THOMPSON is running a 'Man Up' programme at the Hikurangi Christian Fellowship Church, 17 King Street. Don't be shy go in and see him. Just for our tane this one is.

That's me for this month, kia tupato, stay safe out there, take care and look after each other. Keep driving to the conditions, get to wherever you're travelling to, safe. Be courteous to other road users. Take regular breaks. Stay off cell phones and no drinking and driving or drug driving, get that sober bro! Mauri Ora!

Whakatauki o te marama: Proverb of the month:

Kaua e mate wheke mate ururoa

Don't die like an Octopus, die like a hammerhead shark

Kaua e mate wheke mate ururoa is a message from our ancestors telling us to never give up on the things we are wanting to achieve, keep on fighting, keep on striving no matter the obstacles.
